These topics were discussed in this Business Ethics subject:

1. Corporate social responsibility (CSR) is an ethical framework in which the business organization recognizes its obligation to carry out business activities in a way that does not jeopardize the best interests of the society.
2. A social enterprise is an organization that applies commercial strategies to maximize improvements in human and environmental well-being. It is a cause-driven business, whose primary reason for being is to achieve a social mission and serve the common good.

Business organizations that practice CSR are companies for profit. On the other hand, social enterprises are non-profit organizations.

On a long bond paper, write a short essay of at most three paragraphs, about one of the two organizations mentioned above, where you would prefer to apply business ethics in the future.

You may discuss whether you prefer to focus on making profits while fulfilling your social responsibilities, or you prefer to concentrate on a social mission and serving the common good.
