Solidarity is a very important matter in a society. This idea is what keeps a society together. This concept of "solidarity" is manifested in how people, even of different origins and races, express care and help with one another. Of course, as individuals studying this matter, it is essential that we first understand the meanings of this term.

Below are some definitions of solidarity:

- It is a unity or agreement of feeling or action, especially among individuals with a common interest; mutual support within a group. It is synonymous with unanimity, like-mindedness, accord, harmony, consensus, concurrence, cooperation, cohesion, fraternity, mutual support, formal accord.
- It is a feeling of unity between people who have the same interests, goals, etc.
- It is unity (as of a group or class) that produces or is based on a community of interests, objectives, and standards.
- It is a bond of unity between individuals, unified around a common goal or against a common enemy, such as the unifying principle that defines the labor movement.
